

The Australian Family Friendly Workplace Seminar 2012

A two day conference of national significance

Thursday 1st & Friday 2nd March – Melbourne Convention & Exhibition Centre

Testimonials

“ These seminars are an excellent idea and provide a fabulous opportunity to network and gain access to a range of information you would otherwise not have ready access to. ”

Tracey May – KPMG

“A very professionally run and well facilitated seminar. A great range of speakers from a variety of backgrounds. A thought provoking and engaging seminar.”

Tracey Parnell – Charles Sturt University

“Good to have time out of the workplace and get my thoughts clear. Hearing some great examples of contemporary HR practices in time of rapid and major change in people management.”

Linda Whitaker – Wyndham City Council

“A thought provoking seminar which heightens the importance of sound leadership, systems and management; and effective people, partnerships and communication strategies to achieve best possible outcomes.”

Liza Metcalfe – Somerville Community Services

“The presentations gave me insight and knowledge to take back and discuss with my work team and higher management. Such as reviewing values, flexible work arrangements, staff health and well-being initiatives, communication and trust among colleagues”

Alyssa Krause – ACT Health

“Overall I came away with lots of ideas to implement in my workplace. Well done, very enjoyable and interesting.”

Roslyn McLennan – QLD Independent Education Union

“Immensely enjoyable, some wonderful insights, sources and avenues to pursue. Well done.”

Kelly Minogue – Eastern Health

“Thanks to all those involved in arranging the event, a good collection of speakers who were able to provide theoretical as well as practical information.”

Anne Walters – National Film and Sound Archive

“Very good speakers and practical advise and guidance as to where to from here. Good indication of where we need to be to be competitive in the current market.”

Gorana Miljanic – Trimas Corporation

“All speakers gave valuable insights into their organisation and family friendly policies implemented. It was enlightening to hear high level performers and executives who embraced the notion of family friendly workplace.”

Leanne Ryan – RMIT University

“Wow! What a marvelous array of great leaders. I feel privileged to have heard from all of them and really enjoyed the diversity and experience and the generosity with which they shared their views.”

Jenny Trustrum – Department of Education, Employment & Workplace Relations

